Report On Activity:

On Day 3 of our village camp an awareness programme on Water conservation was performed and organised by Vounters. The concept is exposed to 6th-8th students in the form of presentation. with a brief information on Rainwater harvesting (RWH) collection techniques like redirected to a tank, cistern, deep pit (well, shaft, or borehole), aquifer, or a reservoir with percolation, so that it seeps down and restores the ground water. Dew and fog can also be collected with nets or other tools. Rainwater harvesting differs from storm water harvesting as the runoff is typically collected from roofs and other surfaces for storage and subsequent reuse. Its use includes watering gardens, livestock, irrigation, domestic use with proper treatment, and domestic heating. The harvested water can also be committed to longer-term storage or groundwater recharge. Rainwater harvesting is one of the simplest and oldest methods of self-supply of water for households, having been used in India and other countries for many thousands of years.

Volunteers Participated in Rally and they gave awareness on not to waste water, types of Water Pollution, water preservation Methods.
